

ADHD General Presentation

Wednesday, March 13, 2019
7:00 – 9:00pm

“Attention Challenges Simulation”

Presented by: Jill Stowell M.S.

“When you can’t pay attention, it’s frustrating, embarrassing and confusing. Others may think you’re not trying or don’t care, but it’s not true.”

If you think your students’ attention challenges are driving YOU crazy, just wait until you walk in their shoes! This experience will:

- Change your approach to students with attention challenges
- Make you more effective in dealing with schoolwork and homework
- Diminish the frustration that both you and your student feel

Jill is the #1 bestselling author of the book “At Wit’s End - A Parent’s Guide to Ending the Struggle, Tears, and Turmoil of Learning Disabilities.” She is the founder and executive director of Stowell Learning Centers, Inc., in Chino and Irvine, CA, and she conducts workshops to teach practitioners from around the world a complete system for correcting learning and attention challenges, including Dyslexia.
